Create your own personal ATM machine and increase your present monthly income to a stable, five figures, in six productive months

Three easy steps: Activate - Train - Manage

1. ACTIVATE

What: Create a solid team of ten active individuals who understand the opportunity like you do and are prepared to develop their own team of ten individuals.

Who: I believe there are two distinct markets available, the Personal Market and the Business Market.

Just to clarify, the Personal Market is any individual, organization or business that simply wants to have a domain name, web site and email address for private use and (at this time) does not want to do any networking or online business activities. This market is huge, should not be ignored and may even eventually transform itself later to the business aspect for you.

The Business Market is any individual, group or organization who wants to use their GDI affiliation to establish their own online GDI.ws business as a member of your team.

Where: Where do you find these ten qualified people?

Well, beyond all the people you personally know and care about and would appreciate having their own web site and/or benefit from creating a second income stream, there are endless sources.

Consider any person you see working with a computer!

For example: airports, bus stations, train stations, subway stations internet cafes, coffee shops, WiFi stations, computer user groups and various organizations, business groups, networking groups, business leads groups, local chambers of commerce and workers in offices.

How about all those people working hard in shopping malls who would appreciate another income stream and even waiters and waitresses who serve you. Also, every bill you pay should include a business card!

How: The essence and strength of our opportunity comes from the fact that you never really have to sell anything, merely introduce nice people to the professionally created presentation. Your own unique and personal web site will demonstrate to prospective clients that it can be done. Also your own personal email with the .ws extension will immeasurably add to your credibility. You can also interact personally. It's fun!

Use the new GDI business card to direct people to your own web site presentation. (Flash or Video/dvd)

The approach is simple direct and honest. Of course you will adapt to the situation however, here are some ideas for you.

Personal Market

“Do you have your own personal web site and email address?”

Give them your business card and (Choose one!)

“I think you would appreciate this.”

“Have you seen this?”

“You do now. Here is your free trial.”

“Here is a personal invitation for you.”

“Everything is explained here for you.”

Finish with something like, “Be my guest” and walk away!
(of course you could exchange business cards and follow up)

How easy is that?

How: Business Market

Again, adapting to the situation, simply ask something like;

“How would you feel about generating a private, passive income stream, totally ancillary to your present situation, that will likely exceed you present annual salary?”

“I’m looking for / How would you like to become/ You could be/ an Executive Director of your own international global organization and create a private, automated, passive income that will likely exceed what you are currently earning.”

“How does 6 figures/month in the first year sound to you, ancillary/in addition/ to what you already have plus all of the tax benefits?”

Hand them your business card.

“Everything is explained here for you.”

“Do your own due diligence.”

“There is a concise, full presentation waiting for you.”

“Confirm everything for yourself.”

“Be my guest.”

While this is simply a guide, it is a solid, ethical, compelling approach to any business-oriented individual to watch the presentation from your own personally developed web site or the pre-designed G.D.I. site and sign up to your team.

Remember, although there are no limits to the amount of people, you can activate on your first line however, let’s start with ten.

Why: You are going to be a part of a significant solution.

The internet is growing at unprecedented rates and the availability of personal domains are extremely limited in the traditional sense. With the introduction of the .ws extension, an entire new global market has been created. Fortunately everything has been set up for you and your teams to take full advantage of this lucrative situation.

You are also perfectly positioned to make a massive difference in the lives of numerous individuals who would simply like to have an affordable, convenient and flexible web site and email service.

In addition, you can also be instrumental in introducing a system of generating massive, passive income streams for individuals that will provide them with unprecedented levels of financial freedom, and be rewarded yourself for doing so!

Regardless of your present job, or additional income streams, by following the ATM plan, you are placing yourself on an a path which will lead you to an Income For Life, likely to reach five figures of stable, monthly income in just six productive months.

When: Decide now to establish your ten individuals and create the financial destiny you so richly deserve.

Set yourself a realistic goal of how long that will take andexceed it.

2. TEACH

By exemplifying everything you advocate, you will easily accelerate your progress. If you simply treat each new team member that you activate with the dignity and respect they deserve, you will create a loyal, supportive and productive team that will reward you with an unparalleled income for life.

Every new team member should be:

Welcomed to your team.

Guided personally through the <http://www.website.ws> site.

Assisted, if necessary to set up their email and preliminary web site.

Supported with our documents

(Available on the team page of <http://www.weblegacy.ws>)

Welcome letter - initial welcome

ATM - after their site is up?

The Infinity Plan - after their first team member?

Be certain that your team members are aware of the additional support directly from GDI. All the support information is at: <http://www.website.ws>

Another useful document with additional ideas about building your business is available from the GDI site and the original GDI welcome letter. It is a PDF document called the Wealth Guide.

3. MANAGE

If there was just one thing that I could leave you with, one technique or secret that would literally guarantee your success it would be this;

“The principle of teaching your ten first line executives to teach their ten first line executives and so on is the fundamental basis of insuring a successful, enduring and loyal team.”

By supporting, rewarding and inspiring your first-line team, you are setting the precedent for them to do the same. You are leading by example and setting the standard early. When you nurture and respect your first-line team, you will be rewarded accordingly. Ignore them and everything will collapse.

It is indeed rare to find such a simple, ethical and lucrative opportunity that you can share with others and actually participate in both their creativity and financial growth.

A powerful, empowering destiny is now within our immediate futures and I consider it a pleasure to have you as a significant part of it all.

Enjoy the ride!
